Who We Are

In 2023, Hitting the Hardwood was launched with one goal in mind — to be the home for Minnesota Lynx and WNBA fans. It's something the community of dedicated fans deserves, and what HTH strives to provide year-round. With the establishment of HTH founder Mitchell Hansen and the HTH team dove head first into the audio world for the first time, expanding upon over a decade of covering the WNBA and NBA with a new form of storytelling.

What began as a single podcast quickly grew, with Terry Horstman and Andrew Dukowitz joining Hansen in 2025 with the establishment of the HTH Network, a group of podcasts built to bring WNBA and NBA fans closer to the game through in-depth news, analysis and coverage with four podcasts covering the Minnesota Lynx and Minnesota Timberwolves.

And thanks to the incredible support of fans, listeners, readers and patreon members, HTH is expanding once again.

HTH will continue to provide what fans have been used to receiving, but now we are so much more. We are officially evolving from a podcast network to a full-fledged media outlet providing you the latest on all things Minnesota hoops.

From the pros to college and beyond, HTH is your go-to source for everything happening across the Minnesota basketball landscape — including the Minnesota Lynx, Minnesota Timberwolves, Minnesota Gophers and the broader WNBA, NBA and college communities.

At HTH, we will take you behind the scenes of players and teams within the state while providing top-notch stories, podcasts, analysis and more across the state of Minnesota. We are here to provide the same basketball coverage of teams that make up the basketball scene, while also stepping off of the hardwood and paying attention to things happening outside of basketball throughout the state.

Regardless of how much HTH grows, we will never lose track of who we are and why HTH was founded. HTH wants to unite Minnesota basketball fans as one — celebrating the game, its stories and the communities built around it.

HTH isn't just a media outlet. It's a movement, it's a community, and it's your home for Minnesota hoops that strives to be a major part of the Minnesota basketball scene for years to come.

Welcome to the new Hitting the Hardwood.
